derived from the renowned multi volume international encyclopaedia of laws this convenient resource provides systematic information on how spain deals with the role religion plays or can play in society the legal status of religious communities and institutions and the legal interaction among religion culture education and media after a general introduction describing the social and historical background the book goes on to explain the legal framework in which religion is approached coverage proceeds from the principle of religious freedom through the rights and contractual obligations of religious communities international transnational and regional law effects and the legal parameters affecting the influence of religion in politics and public life also covered are legal positions on religion in such specific fields as church financing labour and employment and matrimonial and family law a clear and comprehensive overview of relevant legislation and legal doctrine make the book an invaluable reference source and very useful guide succinct and practical this book will prove to be of great value to practitioners in the myriad instances where a law related religious interest arises in spain academics and researchers will appreciate its value as a thorough but concise treatment of the legal aspects of diversity and multiculturalism in which religion plays such an important part this collection adds to a burgeoning literature concerned with the roles played by religions in development the authors do not assume that religion and religious organisations can be used to achieve development objectives or that religiously inspired development work is more holistic transformative and authentic instead they subject such assumptions to critical and as far as possible objective scrutiny focusing on how adherents of several religious traditions and a variety of organisations affiliated with different religions perceive the idea of development and attempt to contribute to its objectives geographically chapters in the volume encompass africa south asia and the asia pacific four of the papers have an international focus providing a preliminary framework for analysing the role of religion in development considering the roles played by faith inspired organisations in two regions the asia pacific and sub saharan africa and analysing transnational muslim ngos the individual case studies focus on nine countries india kenya pakistan nigeria tanzania sudan malawi sri lanka south africa consider four religions islam hinduism christianity buddhism and can be grouped under four themes they consider religion wellbeing and inequality the roles of religious ngos in development whether and how religious organisations influence respond to or resist social change and whether religious service providers reach the poor finally practice notes show how three religious development organisations try to put their principles into practice this book was published as a special double issue of development in practice this book examines the critical and often undervalued contributions of women to the culture well being and subsistence of their communities as active powerful and wise ritual specialists from the dalit midwives in india to the women of the nahua region in the state of morelos mexico from the indigenous nations in turtle island in canada to the shamans male and female of south korea and vietnam there are still many vital indigenous cultures around the world in which women often hold positions of religious authority and leadership women and indigenous religions addresses specific issues in the study of religion such as the multifaceted tensions between indigenous traditions and gender and the genealogy of positions of authority in religion or spiritual matters a close examination reveals that native religions with their women specialists are still a source of inspiration for millions of men and women even in the advanced areas in the world this fact challenges the opinion that indigenous cultures are becoming extinct originally delivered as part of the 1884 hibbert lecture series in oxford and london r ville s book probes the origins and growth of religion in pre columbian america among the topics are the deities and myths of mexico the sacrifices sacerdotal and monastic institutions eschatology and cosmogony of mexico the fall of the incas peruvian mythology priesthood and peruvian cultus and festivals this volume takes an interdisciplinary approach to the study of religious cultural exchanges around the pacific in the period 1500 1900 relating these to economic and political developments and to the expansion of communication across the area it brings together twenty two pieces from diaries of religious exiles and missionary field observations to studies from a variety of academic disciplines so enabling a multitude of voices to be heard the articles are grouped in sections dealing with the islamic period the iberian catholic period the jewish diaspora the russian orthodox church the epoch of protestant culture and finally asian immigrant religions in the west a substantial introduction contextualizes these chapters in terms of both historical and contemporary approaches
